

Juris Doctor Scholarship Scheme 2016/17

The Faculty of Law (the “Faculty”) of The Chinese University of Hong Kong (“CUHK”) announces the “Juris Doctor Scholarship Scheme 2016/17” (the “Scheme”). Regulations governing awards under the Scheme are set out below.

Regulations

1. The Faculty will award five scholarships worth HK$100,000 each to outstanding full-time students entering the Juris Doctor (“JD”) programme in 2016/17.
2. All JD full-time students are eligible for the award of scholarships under the Scheme. The sole selection criterion is academic merit, assessed on the basis of the student’s application and supporting materials for admission to the JD programme.
3. The Faculty will inform the students selected to receive the scholarships (the “awardees”) following the issuance of their admission notification by the Graduate School. The scholarships will be paid to the awardees in four equal instalments in Term One and Term Two of each year during their first two years of studies, subject to the following conditions: The awardees must:
 - confirm their acceptance of admission to the JD programme in 2016/17 and settle the required fee within one month from the date of their offer of admission;
 - commence their studies in the JD full-time programme in September 2016;
 - take a minimum study load of 9 units in Term One and 9 units in Term Two of each year in the first two academic years immediately following their admission; and
 - remain in good standing as a full-time student during the first two years of their studies in the JD programme.
4. Failure by any student to comply with any condition specified in Regulation 3 will result in automatic termination of entitlement to the balance of any monies remaining payable under the Scheme. Any monies paid under the Scheme to persons after they have failed to comply with any condition shall be immediately re-paid to CUHK.
5. The Faculty reserves the right to award fewer than five scholarships.
6. The Faculty’s decisions in respect of the award of scholarships will be final, no appeal is available, and no discussion or correspondence will be entered into with any person regarding the award of scholarships.
