About the Speaker: Hon. Suzanne K. Nusbaum brings more than 30 years of dispute resolution experience to her fulltime neutral ADR practice. A Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and a former judge, she has specialized expertise in resolving international trade, business, employment, health care, and intellectual property disputes. She chairs the ABA IP Section ADR Committee, the Intellectual Property Owners ADR Committee, and the Northern California Chapter of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. Her skills are founded on a broad base of common law experience. In her decade and a half as an Administrative Law Judge, she presided over many complex medical and employment disputes, at both the trial and appellate levels. Her judicial excellence was acknowledged by public nomination, confirmation and reappointment in two states. Prior to the bench, she managed a private law practice and served as a state’s attorney prosecuting criminal cases. Judge Nusbaum serves on many ADR panels, including ICDR, ICC, American Arbitration Association (AAA), Agency for Dispute Resolution, and Federal and State Courts. She annually judges the Chinese National Rounds of the Jessup International Moot Court in the P.R.C. and annually grades the final round of memorials for the Vis Moot. She enjoys teaching basic dispute resolution skills to students internationally.

The Mediation Institute is part of the Faculty of Law of the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Its primary objectives are to provide academic courses and professional training programmes in the field of mediation and dispute resolution.
