Message from the Dean

The Faculty of Law at The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK LAW) stands among the most dynamic and accomplished law schools in Asia and beyond. Since welcoming its inaugural cohort in 2006, CUHK LAW has earned international recognition for excellence in legal education and research, while making a lasting contribution to our local community.

As the Faculty approaches its 20th anniversary, I warmly invite you to consider joining the CUHK LAW community as we embark on a new chapter in our third decade. This journey will unfold against a backdrop of rapid and complex change — from the rise of artificial intelligence to the challenges of climate change and the evolving demands on legal institutions. Guided by these shifts, our teaching and scholarship will continue to respond with rigour, imagination, and resolve.

In the years ahead, we shall remain deeply committed to the rule of law and to the University's enduring motto: "Through learning and temperance to virtue." We shall also continue to cherish the close ties we share with our alumni, supporters, and partners — as together we shall build on enduring legal values to meet the challenges of a changing world.

Our Juris Doctor (JD) Programme offers a rigorous postgraduate pathway into the legal profession. Whether you come from a background in the humanities, sciences, or business, the JD Programme will equip you with the intellectual tools and ethical grounding to navigate the complexities of law in an evolving world.

We would be delighted to welcome you into our community of thinkers, learners, and future leaders in law.

Professor Chao Xi
Dean of CUHK LAW

Message from the Programme Director

The Juris Doctor (JD) Programme at CUHK is an excellent opportunity for candidates who are interested in law as a second career. Our JD Programme provides a comprehensive and rigorous curriculum to allow candidates from other disciplines to successfully transition into law. Our graduates have gone on to find success at top international and local law firms, barristers' chambers, Government and regulatory bodies, NGOs and in private sector businesses.

Our JD Programme offers great flexibility to cater to the needs of our postgraduate students. Students can customize their curriculum by selecting from a wide range of elective courses depending on their interests. The JD degree can normally be completed in 24 months (full-time) or 42 months (part-time).

We also offer an outstanding teaching environment. Students will enjoy a wide range of academic resources such as a world-class Faculty drawn from many jurisdictions, online teaching and research tools and an extensive library database. The JD Programme is located at the CUHK Graduate Law Centre in the heart of Central, with the Court of Final Appeal, the High Court and many law offices just a short walk away. If you are interested in pursuing law as a second career, the JD Programme at CUHK has a lot to offer. We look forward to welcoming you.

Elliot Fung
Programme Director of the Juris Doctor Programme

Mission and Vision of CUHK LAW

Overview of the JD Programme

JURIS DOCTOR ASIA YOUR POSTGRADUATE LAW DEGREE

The Juris Doctor (JD) is a versatile postgraduate law degree that leads potentially to admission as barrister or solicitor in Hong Kong. It is also suitable for candidates who strive to become leaders in fields such as commerce, finance, academia, government, community service, law enforcement, public administration, education and the media. The JD is a respected and internationally recognised award many universities in leading jurisdictions abroad confer. CUHK LAW teaches and assesses all JD Programme courses entirely in the English language.

The JD Programme gives students an intellectually enriching foundational education in law that also lets them study a wide range of challenging elective courses in the common law, Chinese law, comparative law, international law, and the law of trade, business and finance. CUHK LAW encourages JD students to look behind the contemporary rules of law to the values, purposes and policies underlying them.

The JD Programme offers a rich and diverse teaching environment. Classes are taught by academic staff drawn from jurisdictions around the world and our JD students often join a diverse group of students from our Master of Laws (LLM) or other law programmes in classes. The JD Programme is a taught Master's degree and it is not customary for JD graduate to use the title, "Doctor".

With CUHK as its home, experienced and dedicated international teachers and a strong focus on students, the JD Programme gives students an unparalleled opportunity for professional and academic growth.

The JD Programme has already established itself as a leader in professional legal education in Hong Kong and the East Asian region.

Enriched by the intellectual and cultural heritage of its University and at the heart of the legal system, CUHK LAW brings together common law and Chinese law with other great legal traditions and values to promote justice and safeguard the rule of law.

An international family of research-led scholars offers dynamic and flexible learning conditions. Students are encouraged to develop a deep and critical understanding of legal theory and practice. Graduates will possess the intellectual skills and ethical values to enable them to become future leaders and better serve the needs of the community.

Supported by world class research, CUHK LAW provides a flexible, learner-centred environment in which students are actively engaged and prepared for distinction in the legal profession and for leadership roles in Hong Kong, China, and internationally.

CUHK LAW is building strong and enduring links with alumni and friends so that law students are educated and fully equipped for successful careers in the legal profession, government, business, and industry.

JD Programme Requirements

The JD Programme consists of 72 units (i.e., the equivalent of 24 term-length courses, each worth 3 units). Students may enroll in full-time or part-time mode of study. Full-time students can complete the JD Programme in as short as 24 months (the normative study period) or as long as 48 months (the maximum study period). Part-time students can complete the JD Programme in 42 months* (the normative study period) or as long as 84 months (the maximum study period).

To graduate, students must complete four required courses. These are Comparative Legal Studies, Legal System, Legal Research, Analysis and Writing and Ethics and Jurisprudence. CUHK LAW provides these required courses to give JD students the foundational knowledge and skills for a well-rounded general legal education and a first-hand appreciation of the relationship between the legal system and the broader community it serves and regulates. Moreover, all students must complete a mandatory research component by undertaking either Independent Research or the more extensive Independent Research Dissertation. In this research component, students should demonstrate a mastery of legal research and writing and the capacity to think creatively about law.

CUHK LAW offers its own innovative Postgraduate Certificate in Laws (PCLL) Programme. Students aspiring to be admitted as a barrister or solicitor in Hong Kong must pursue courses stipulated by the Hong Kong legal professions. Students who pass these may then apply to be admitted to the PCLL Programme. These courses are also open to students who do not plan to enter the PCLL Programme.

Our JD students choose elective courses from a wide range of intellectually enriching and professionally enhancing offerings. Reading these subjects enables our JD students to complete their degree requirements while expanding their intellectual breadth and furthering their professional goals.

Most JD courses are worth 3 units. Students will have an average of 3 contact hours per week with teachers in each course. CUHK LAW holds classes during daytime and evenings of weekdays and daytime on Saturdays. Evening classes typically begin at 6:30pm. Classes incorporate a mix of lectures, seminars, presentations and class discussion.

Finally, all students must meet the minimum cumulative GPA required by the University for postgraduate programmes before they may graduate.

* Part-time students may apply to accelerate their studies and complete the JD Programme in 36 months with the permission of the Graduate Council on the recommendation of the CUHK LAW.

Our Student Profile

The CUHK JD Programme is distinguished not only by the strength and global character of its academic faculty, but also by the quality and breadth of its student body.

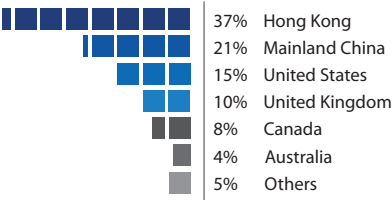

Admission to the JD Programme is highly competitive. Every year, around half of our students are admitted with an undergraduate degree awarded with first class honours, a doctorate, a Master’s degree with distinction or a Bachelor’s degree with borderline first class honours (or equivalent). The remaining students are admitted with a strong second upper class degree or equivalent. A significant proportion of our students have received one or more of their degrees outside Hong Kong, frequently at leading universities in North America, Europe, China and Australasia. Our students’ academic backgrounds cover virtually every discipline, from accountancy to zoology. This mix of students enriches the JD teaching and learning experience.

Our International Academic Faculty

CUHK LAW has a strong team of experienced academic staff from various jurisdictions with world-known expertise in many areas. Some come from extensive practice backgrounds, having held senior positions in legal practice and other fields across many jurisdictions. All strive for excellence in teaching and research and are committed to educating students in the law by drawing on their diverse teaching, research and professional experience.

Learning Environment

GRADUATE LAW CENTRE

CUHK LAW delivers all JD courses in the CUHK Graduate Law Centre, located in Hong Kong's central business district at 2/F, Bank of America Tower, Central. Teaching facilities in the Graduate Law Centre include the Warren Chan Moot Court, lecture theatres, classrooms and breakout rooms. All rooms are equipped with state-of-the-art facilities. The Graduate Law Centre also has a Legal Resources Centre, a computer laboratory and a student common area with computer stations that serve all postgraduate students undertaking their studies. JD students also have access to facilities on the CUHK main campus in Shatin on the same basis as other postgraduate students of the University.

International Exchange

Exchanges give students the opportunity to travel to new places, to meet new people, to experience new cultures, to learn new subjects, to refresh their minds and to impress future employers.

JD students may transfer credits they earn abroad to count towards their degree requirements. In addition to university-wide exchanges, which cover more than two hundred destinations, CUHK LAW offers faculty-based exchanges. Through these, students may study abroad at Washington College of Law of American University (USA), Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law of Yeshiva University (USA), the Faculty of Law of Maastricht University (Netherlands), the School of Law of Bocconi University (Italy) and Osgoode Hall Law School of York University (Canada).

Mooting

Mooting gives students a taste of life as a lawyer presenting written and oral arguments in complex hypothetical court cases. CUHK LAW students annually participate in internal, local, regional and international moot competition. CUHK LAW has enjoyed great success in all moot competition since moot was first offered in 2006.

CUHK LAW encourages students to participate in moot competition. Participation may attract course credits towards degree completion. An academic staff member advises each team and supervises its work. Practice moots take place in the state-of-the-art Warren Chan Moot Court at the Graduate Law Centre and Moot Court in the Shatin campus.

CUHK LAW moot teams have achieved notable results in international moot competition as highlighted below:

- Championship in the Herbert Smith Freehills Competition Law Moot in 2019; Best Advocate and a Certificate of Outstanding Advocacy Skills in 2025.
- Championships in the Leiden- Sarin International Air Law Moot Court Competition 2022 and 2024.
- Championships in the Willem C. Vis East International Commercial Arbitration Moot in 2016 and 2020; Honourable Mention for Best Written Memorandum for Claimant in 2025.
- Werner Melis Award for Best Respondent Memorandum, Martin Domke Award for Best Oralist, and Eric E. Bergsten Award for Best Team Orals (Top 16) in the Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot in 2025.
- Regional Round Winner and Dillard Award for Memorial Writing in the Philip C. Jessup International Law in 2022.
- First Place Winner, Best Team Overall, Best Regional Memorial for Asia, Best Defense Counsel Memorial, Second Runner-up for Best Memorial, and Second Runner-up for Best Prosecution Memorial in the International Criminal Court Moot Court Competition in 2020.

Career Success and Careers Facilities

Most of our students intend, after completing their degree, to sit the PCLL before moving on to careers in legal practice, many aiming for top law firms and barristers' chambers with some choosing to take legal positions in government or industry. Others move into areas where a law degree can give them a useful advantage – such as regulatory compliance, investment banking or financial services, with a number choosing to remain in academia. In all cases their achievements are testimony to their hard work and the quality of their education.

Law Student Careers Office

The Law Student Careers Office provides students with guidance on career choices, applications and interviews as well as assistance with career preparation and professional development. The Law Student Careers Office has also prepared a programme of seminars on career and professionalism topics which includes presentations by representatives of law firms, barristers' chambers and other prospective employers.

Virtual Careers Resource Centre

The Law Student Careers Office also maintains a Virtual Careers Resource Centre (VCRC) which serves as a contact point for prospective employers, teaching faculty members and students. The VCRC contains a Legal Careers Directory with up-to-date information on law firms and chambers, including on their internships, training contract and pupillage/mini-pupillage policies and application procedures. The VCRC website (<https://www.law.cuhk.edu.hk/app/student-careers/>) also notifies job opportunities and forthcoming careers seminars and other events. It also provides students with information on matters such as job applications and CV preparation and with a wide range of other career-related resources designed to ensure that CUHK LAW students are fully informed and equipped for entering into what today is a challenging and rapidly-changing job market.

What Our Students Say

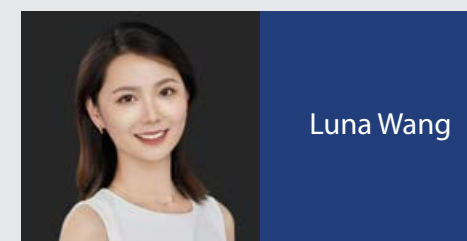

Matthew Tsang
JD (CUHK) student
BAv (The University of New South Wales)

Being a JD student at CUHK LAW has been transformative and intellectually rewarding.

Inside the classrooms, the faculty members provide invaluable mentorship, while fellow classmates show remarkable camaraderie. The inclusive and supportive learning environment at CUHK LAW fosters vibrant intellectual discourse and a sense of belonging.

Outside of the classrooms, I had the opportunity to participate in the Faculty's International Law Moot Team. This experience has allowed me to engage with complex legal issues and develop my advocacy skills on an international stage. The support and guidance from the moot coaches and fellow teammates have been instrumental through my legal journey.

I am grateful for the comprehensive legal education CUHK LAW has provided. I wholeheartedly endorse it to aspiring legal professionals.

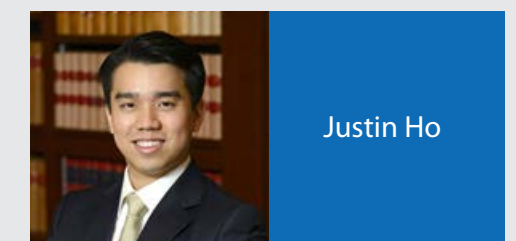

Luna Wang
JD (CUHK), PCLL (CUHK)
BSc (HK PolyU)
Training Contract, Clifford Chance

I started my JD study at CUHK on a part-time mode. It provided me with an opportunity to explore law while I was still working in a business organisation. The study was intellectually stimulating and fulfilling. I was not only equipped with legal knowledge but also trained to be a legal practitioner. The critical thinking, problem-solving and communication skills that I have gained and practised at CUHK LAW helped me to quickly adapt into the dynamic legal industry and to start my second career as a lawyer.

Jina Kim
JD (CUHK)
LLB (Tsinghua University)

The JD Programme at CUHK provides its students with opportunities to study law in an environment that is both rigorous and collaborative. Professors come from multiple jurisdictions and diverse backgrounds, and students have the privilege of learning from renowned researchers and supportive professors who are enthusiastic about their areas of expertise. Interactive classes offer students chances to benefit from a diverse student body trained in a variety of disciplines and different experiences. The Faculty also provides an extraordinary range of resources, a wide array of elective courses, guest lectures and career development advice (including one-on-one career advice sessions). I believe the JD Programme offers a legal education that prepares students well for a variety of legal careers.

Justin Ho
JD (CUHK), PCLL (CUHK)
LLM (Harvard), BCL (Dist) (Oxford), BA (Tufts)

Barrister, Temple Chambers

The JD Programme gave me a very useful introduction and foundation to core substantive law topics. More importantly, the JD Programme taught me to think and speak like a lawyer; the problem-solving skills and ability to construct logical, coherent arguments which were introduced to me at CUHK continue to be extremely useful to me today. Additionally, the opportunity to represent the Faculty as an oralist in international moot competitions has been invaluable in training me to respond to difficult questions put to me in argument with level-headed, precise answers.

Being a student of the CUHK JD Programme has been challenging and fulfilling. CUHK LAW preps its students by building a strong foundation about the Hong Kong legal system with an overview of international law. It offers the opportunity to explore niche practice areas through excellent conferences and other student engagements.

The law professors and administration for offer an incredible support system to students. The best thing about the program is the level of flexibility and the diverse opportunities it offers to students, making them adaptable and resourceful for their legal careers ahead.

Lau Ka Yu

JD (CUHK)

The JD Programme has been an intellectually stimulating and rewarding experience for me. The professors and lecturers are experienced and passionate about legal education and the wide variety of courses ensure that students are well-equipped with relevant knowledge to embark on their legal careers. I am deeply grateful to all teachers and classmates for their encouragement and support.

Adrian Luk

JD (CUHK), PCLL (CUHK)

Legal Counsel, Alibaba Group

Studying at CUHK LAW has been a most rewarding experience. The JD Programme not only teaches “what is law”, but also “what the law ought to be”.

In each course, there is always a discussion on how the law can improve. The international faculty challenges students to compare Hong Kong’s situation against the experience from foreign jurisdictions. Many of my classmates, who studied different subjects at college or had work experience, also provided refreshing perspectives.

This engaging learning atmosphere has taught me to approach legal issues with an open mind and creativity.

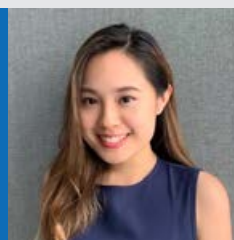

Gou Yidan

JD (CUHK)

Switching from finance to pursuing a Juris Doctor Programme has been a challenging but incredibly rewarding journey. The professors' engaging teaching styles and patience have greatly enhanced my learning experience at CUHK LAW. Moreover, my fellow students are supportive and friendly. I have learned a lot from them. I am looking forward to my future studies at CUHK LAW.

Velda Yau

JD (CUHK), PCLL (CUHK)
BA (King's College London)
Barrister, Bernacchi Chambers

Pursuing a new career direction is never easy, but the CUHK JD Programme has prepared and equipped me well for the journey ahead.

I have thoroughly enjoyed studying in an intellectually stimulating environment with a diverse cohort of bright and expressive students. Besides the heartfelt teaching by a group of international and highly qualified Faculty members, the Faculty is extremely resourceful as it provides a wide array of elective courses, guest lectures and international conferences. These events keep students up to date with the latest happenings in the legal industry and serve as great networking platforms to meet leading practitioners in their fields. The Faculty also offers practical support for career development. Students benefit from regular legal newsletters on latest career opportunities and topical issues, as well as workshops and individual advice sessions offered by experienced and knowledgeable practitioners. The overall training and support provided by the Faculty explains why our graduates are highly regarded by market leaders in the industry.

Whether you want to embark on a legal career or wish to commence a challenging yet fruitful exercise of intellectual pursuit - the JD Programme has my unqualified recommendation.

Howie Choi

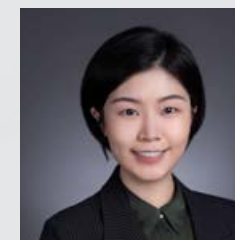

JD (CUHK)

The JD programme offers a stimulating academic experience that truly challenges the intellect. It effectively bridges the divide between my economic background and the intricacies of the business world. Despite its demanding nature, the Programme became immensely enjoyable and captivating thanks to the lecturers' infectious enthusiasm for their respective areas of law.

I would like to express my heartfelt appreciation to the professors at CUHK LAW for their unwavering dedication in creating an exceptional learning environment.

Hazel Tang

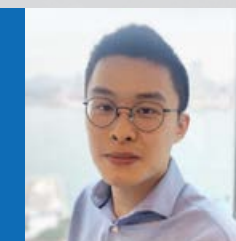

JD (CUHK), PCLL (CUHK) student

Attending the CUHK JD Programme has been a truly transformative experience that has profoundly impacted my personal and professional growth. From the moment I embarked on this journey, I was welcomed into a stimulating and intellectually rigorous environment that challenged me to reach new heights. The faculty members at CUHK are exceptional, with their expertise and dedication to teaching shining through in every class. Additionally, the JD Programme provides exceptional extracurricular activities such as mooted opportunities, which formed an invaluable part of my professional development.

I am proud to say that CUHK LAW has prepared me to begin my legal career. The excellent education and memorable experiences I gained have helped me grow tremendously both professionally and personally.

Anthony Mak

JD (CUHK) student
BA (Durham University)
MA (University of Southern California)
MSc (London School of Economics and Political Science)

Pursuing my Juris Doctor degree as a part-time student was rewarding in ways that extended beyond the classroom. Applying the legal knowledge I learned from my courses to my job made me a better professional, while affirming my desire to work in the legal industry. I reflect on my time at CUHK fondly as I embark on the next chapter of my career.

I am thankful for all the friends I have made during the past four years and for the many professors whose teachings motivated me to become a better student.
